

Today, a self-presentation workshop was held at the Dzierżoniów Cultural Center, organized specifically for the participants of the Entrepreneurship Tournament. The event was an important part of preparation for the competition finals, in which young entrepreneurs will present their business ideas to the Competition Committee and the audience.

The aim of the workshop was to support students in developing their public speaking skills and strengthen their self-confidence and communication skills. Magdalena

Zalewska from the Department of Education, Promotion, and Social Affairs of the Dzielnia City Hall led the workshop, sharing her knowledge and experience in effective presentations.

During the workshop, participants learned the key pillars of good public speaking and had the opportunity to practice their presentations. They worked on the structure and clear message of their business plans, reflected on their goals during the presentation and emphasized the importance of body language, vocal control and diction. Another important element of the workshops was the provision of practical tips on coping with stress and building self-confidence in public speaking situations.

The workshops provided an excellent opportunity to acquire valuable skills that will undoubtedly pay off during the Entrepreneurship Tournament finals. Participants demonstrated great commitment, creativity and courage in presenting their ideas.

We are keeping our fingers crossed for all participants and wish them good luck in the finals.
