Thermal Imaging in Practice 2026 â?? 2nd edition

The second edition of the "Thermal Imaging in Practice" conference will take place at the Srebrna GÃ³ra Fortress on June 15, 2026. This unique facility will combine history with technology, creating an inspiring space for thermal imaging specialists and enthusiasts.

The conference program includes expert lectures, practical workshops, and demonstrations of the latest technologies. Participants will have the opportunity to learn about the applications of thermal imaging in industry, energy, construction, photovoltaics, and technical diagnostics. The knowledge and experience gained during the meeting will help in everyday work and professional development. Participation in this event is also an excellent opportunity to establish new industry contacts and test the latest thermal imaging devices.

Slots are limited, so purchase your ticket online now. Don't miss this unique opportunity to develop and exchange experiences in the dynamically developing field of thermal imaging!

Detailed information about the conference program and participation rules can be found here.

- Print
- PDF
- Share
- e-urzÄ d

all news